Old Series
Number 20

As Seen By Jones

Jones wishes his readers to understand here and now that what he writes will be straight from the shoulder, but at the the same time everyone and every thing will be impartially and rightly treated. "Energy" readers are invited to send in short communications, questions, etc., the whole aim is to benefit my readers. If you come across anything of philatelic interest which has not been exploited in the philatelic press tell the readers of Energy about it through this department. I shall endeavor to have something to say in regard to these. When you send any thing in, see that it is complete, but in the fewest possible words. "Boil it down" is the admonition the publisher has for all writers. If any of you are in doubt as regards anything philatelic, ask for information. If Jones cannot answer you, very likely some of the readers can. This by way of introduction. Now Jones is ready for you. Address communications:

Something About Energy

This number rounds up volume one of the philatelic series of Energy. Previous to Feb. 1900 eight numbers had appeared as a variety monthly. The change has been one for the better and our prompt monthly appearance has shown the philatelic public that ENERGY is to be relied upon. We have had a hard row to hoe, but by persistent work along the line we had laid out we have been able to build up a large subscription list and as the days go by new names are being added in larger numbers than ever. ENERGY is not as large as some stamp papers, but what we publish is interesting matter disbed up in condensed form. We have been complimented upon the life that is shown in ENERGY. Some papers will come out with page after page of dry statistics and heavy articles. They are all right but should be given in smaller doses and lighter matter furnished to add life. ENERGY has plenty of room to grow in different ways. It is not a large journal and we propose to add more pages from time. The field of philatelic journalism is not overcrowded with really good stamp papers, so there is plenty of room for prosperity in the securing of subscribers and of advertising. The latter is the natural outcome of the former. The paper that has the readers will get the advertising patronage. This is the secret of Energy's full advertising pages. We have the readers—all good stamp buyers. Advertisers have found this out. Their ads in ENERGY are answered and ENERGY has page after page of advertisements while other magazines get poor patronage. For 1901 we have mapped out a far greater work than that of 1900. We have the confidence of the philatelists and now begins our growing time. Watch ENERGY grow!

ENERGY

The Passing of the Stamp

One hundred years ago stamps were not. In those days the postman delivered the letters on horseback. Transportation was slow and it took weeks to hear news from the old land. Now the telegraph and cable systems enable us to receive news from all parts of the planet almost as quick as it happens. Fast railroad trains and ocean grey-hounds give us rapid transmission of mails which would have astounded our worthy fore-fathers almost out of their senses had they been sprung upon them suddenly. Who knows but that at the end of this century changes just as marvellous may take place. Probably the inventive mind will by that time have made letter writing entirely unnecessary. Even if this does not take place there rests no doubt that postage stamps will have long outlived their usefulness by the beginning of the 21st century. It is very probable that by the end of another decade the adhesive stamp will have been discarded by all the great nations, their places being taken by the automatic stamping machines. Philatelists however should not look upon this with alarm. There are already more than enough stamps to keep us collecting for a life time and to add to then is really burdensome. We should look upon the passing of the stamp as a philatelic blessing.

GLEANINGS

Garnered From The Philatelic Field.

The 1c, 2c, 5c and 10c Salvador 1899 have been surcharged "Franqueo Oficial".

Roumania has issued a commemorative set of ten varieties: 1b to 2l.

The "mourning stamp" issued in Finland some months ago is not a postage stamp. It could not be so used. It was placed on letters along with the regular Russian stamps and proceeds went to the support of national schools.

France has a new issue as follows: 1c bistre, 2c mauve, 3c light brown, 4c brown, 5c light green, 10c carmine, 15c orange, 20c purplebrown, 25c blue, 30c lilac, 40c red and blue, 1 fr red and green, 2 fr purple and orange, 5 fr blue

Nubs of News

According to the prices in the 60th catalogue U. S. revenues, first issue imperforate have increased in value considerably.

Philatelic fiction seems to be gaining in favor and our best papers now contain interesting stories about stamp and stampie affairs.

The current one dollar revenue in red in an uncut perfect condition bids fair to become one of the rarities of the future. The 1898 green dollar stamp brings as high as a dollar and a half a hundred at wholesale. Few, if any more private proprietary stamps will be issued as strenuous efforts are being made to have the tax medicine repealed and no new dies are being made at present.

Fiji and Cook island stamps may prove good property in the future as postal issues will doubtless become absolute, as the Cook islands have already been annexed to New Zealand and there is talk of annexing the Fiji group.

New Issue of Stamps

Now that our beloved Sovereign Lady has crossed the great beyond and King Edward VII is on the throne of the British Empire we may look for new issues from Great Britain and her various possessions. It has already been semi-officially announced that a new Canadian issue with King Edward's lineaments depicted thereon is to be put into circulation shortly.
